PRESENT SITUATION IN BOTH PARTIES IS WITHOUT PARALLEL

Harding and Wilson, Who Rode Down Pa. Ave. 3 Years Ago Both Removed from Scene.

WHO CAN PREDICT?

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
(I N S. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington March 4.—The three quarter post in the quadrennial Presidential sweepstakes today found a situation that political leaders declare is absolutely without parallel in American politics.

Three years ago this fourth of March, Warren G. Harding rode triumphantly down Pennsylvania Avenue to be inaugurated President by the most smashing and decisive verdict ever rendered at the polls—seven million majority was his.

One year from today his elected successor will also journey down the avenue.

The three years have been fraught with momentous happenings.

Harding and the war wrecked man who rode beside him that day are gone. A new President, unlike either of his two immediate predecessors, sits in the executive mansion. Washington and the country are rocking with the greatest series of political controversies in governmental history.

Politicians of every shade of opinion were soberly asking themselves today, what of the next year and endeavoring to peer beyond the haze of uncertainty and doubt that hangs low over the political horizon.

The one item in the mind of every political leader in the capital today was

"What will be the effect of the great oil scandal?"

The answers were as varied as the questioners themselves.

The Republicans are apprehensive, but scarcely less so than the Democrats. Men high in the councils of both parties have been or will be swayed by oily brushes of whisper and innuendo before November from a thousand partisan platforms.

Republicans are hopeful that under the guidance of Coolidge and the new regime the party will emerge unaffected by the revelations of the past few months.

Democrats are hopeful that a shocked and disillusioned electorate will make its feelings manifest at the polls and turn once again to the party that carried through the last two administrations.

But from no leader of consequence on either Republican or Democratic, was it possible today to get a sincere prediction as to what the future holds politically. They simply shook their heads and said:

"Wait."

A SURPRISE MARRIAGE

Mr. Carroll Breth and Miss Laura Rupert of Clearfield, surprised their many friends by slipping quietly away to Hollidaysburg, Pa., and getting married, Feb. 15th, 1924.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Warner have moved into their new bungalow on Elm street.

TAX REDUCTION PLAN NOW BEFORE HOUSE WILL SUIT THE PRESIDENT

Washington, March 3. (INS.)—Administration leaders in the Senate received word from the White House today that the Tax Reduction Bill as passed by the House is satisfactory to President Coolidge.

This means that the Republican regulars in the Senate will not work to cut the surtax rates or increase the normal income tax rates fixed by the House, but will satisfy themselves with defending the bill against onslaughts of the Democrats and Republican Insurgents.

TWO MEN FOUND ON PENNSY TRACK NEAR PHILIPSBURG; KILLED

Brickyarder Finds the Bodies about 10 o'clock Last Evening; Identity By Pocket Contents.

ONE WAR VETERAN

Two men were killed by a Pennsylvania freight train on the tracks of that road near the Harbison-Walker brick works at Stiners or Chester Hill last night. The mangled remains of the men were found along the railroad track about 10:30 o'clock by Ernest Raybold as he was going to work at the brick yard.

The rail victims were hobos or travelers, one of whom at least had been about that section for the past several months off and on. They had evidently been sitting or lying on the track. The train which ran over them was the night freight running between Osceola and Clearfield.

Railroad Officer Henderson of Osceola, identified one of the men as a man whom he arrested for trespassing on the railroad at Osceola last December. At that time he was sent to Clearfield where he served 15 days in jail under the name of James Manion of New York City.

The other man carried an identification card on his person which gave his name as James J. Deacon, of 2135 Church lane, Philadelphia. He also had two army discharges showing he had served as a member of Co. L, 86th Inf., during the world war. His age was given as 29 years. Manion was about 49 years of age.

The remains were placed aboard the night passenger train on the Pennsylvania and brought into Philipsburg, where they were taken in charge by Undertaker Eboch and prepared for burial. They will be held pending word from relatives.

Washington-Broadway Limited Jumps Track Near Pittsburg Yards

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 4 INS.)—The Washington-Broadway Limited, crack Pennsylvania railroad flyer from Washington to Chicago was derailed just East of Bellevue station near here shortly after midnight, but no one was reported seriously injured. More than thirty passengers were thrown from their berths when the engine struck a huge rock which had tumbled down the hillside on the tracks.

Only the slow speed of the train leaving the Pittsburgh yards is believed to have averted a serious wreck. H. B. Shaffer, the engineer and W. A. Perry, the fireman saved their lives when they leaped clear of the engine cab as it hurtled into the 500-pound rock. Neither was seriously injured. The engine, tender, cloth car and one Pullman were derailed.

Perry who did not jump as soon as the engineer received a sprained ankle.

Tracks were torn up and twisted for fifty yards. Wrecking crews were at the scene of the wreck early today clearing the main line. The flyer was delayed three hours by the wreck.

J. W. Boyd Gives Clever Checker Exhibition At Y.M.C.A. Lobby Here

A large crowd of checker enthusiasts spent the greater part of last evening in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. watching the exhibition of checker playing by J. W. Boyd, who single handed tackled ten checker fans to as many games of checkers at the same time. The ten who were seated around the large circle of checker boards in order were S. L. Warner, Edward Hile, James Mitchell, Sr., Roy I. Fulton, James Mitchell, Jr., Raymond Edwards, R. W. Kinkead, L. J. Shankle, Samuel Mitchell and J. T. McClintock. These ten men took the black and each made their first move. Mr. Boyd completed his first round in one and a half minutes, and played a clever fast game throughout.

The fans, who were watching the game were so much interested in the games that they lost their sense of fairness to the single man and were offering moves to various men behind

ST. ANDREW'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Tomorrow being Ash Wednesday or the first day of Lent, there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 7:30 a. m. Morning prayer and litany at 10:30, and evening prayer at 7:30. A full attendance at these services is urged. Let us begin this season of penitence and sacrifice tomorrow, as we should, and not wait until Mid-Lent.

Ex-Police Chief Hitt Is Again Flooding This Town With Bad Checks

Our late unlamented chief of police Peter Alexander Hitt, who was sent to the penitentiary for a year by Judge Quigley, of Centre county, for forging a note, is at liberty again, as his time was up several weeks ago.

Peter evidently likes to be in durance vile and don't propose to remain outside of prison walls for long if he can possibly "write" himself in again. The first notice local people had that Hitt was out again was received a week or two ago when local banks began to receive for collection checks written by the ex-police chief. One for $50 and another for $5, dated Sunbury, Pa., were received by one institution, while yesterday Chief of Police McMullin received an inquiry concerning Hitt from the chief of police of Massillon, Ohio. This gentleman says that a week or so ago Hitt approached him and said he was in charge of the insane asylum at Clearfield but had business at Massillon. Running short of funds he asked the chief if he would oblige him by cashing his check for $35 in order that he might get home. The chief obliged and, as was to be expected, the check, which was drawn on a Clearfield bank was returned to him marked "no funds."

The Massillon man is naturally as mad as a wet hen and is much interested in getting a line on Mr. Hitt.

GAME FUND OF STATE MUCH DESIRED BY THOSE WHO HAVE TRIED IN PAST TO OUST CHAIRMAN JOHN M. PHILLIPS

Governor Sought In His Code To Get Control of Sportsmen's Money and Control Appointments.

A HISTORY OF PHILLIPS

Governor Pinchot's refusal to name John M. Phillips to the State Game Commission is taken by Pennsylvania's 500,000 hunters as but another step in the campaign inaugurated several years ago to get a strangle hold on the commission and the big hunter's license fund. The sportsmen are assembling all over the state for the purpose of taking concerted action against the Governor in this matter.

Clearfield hunters meet tonight at the Court House to register their protest at the Governor's high-handed action.

The following history of the commission and Mr. Phillips is opportune now:—

The game commission, since its organization in 1895, has occupied an unique position in the state machinery in that its six members, while serving without pay and paying out of their own pocket all expenses incurred in looking after the affairs of the sportsmen of the state, have executive powers. They appoint all members of the game commission's working force and administer the hunters' money, raised through the resident hunters' license law, for the protection and propagation of game and for the protection of song and insectivorous birds. It has been the game commission's boast for years that it was "out of politics." Its efficiency under this system may be measured by the high position Pennsylvania has as a game state among the other states of the union.

Seeks to Hamper Work.

Mr. Pinchot sought, in connection with his reorganization code, to deprive the game commission of its executive powers and make it an advisory body only, to make the secretary of the game commission, now appointed by the commission itself, the head of the department appointed by the governor and having a seat in his cabinet and in this manner bring the sportsmen's self-sustaining game department into the state organization on the same terms as departments that are financed from the public funds, and subject to the same political vicissitudes.

This proposed status of the game commission, which, conservationists declare, has been inimical to the interests both of the sportsmen and wild life in other states, was opposed by Mr. Philips. In fact, all the members of the commission declared their

Not Necessary To Hold All Murder Trials In A Court House Says S. C.

Philadelphia, March 3 (INS.)—A precedent was established in Pennsylvania when the State Supreme court today decided it was not illegal to conduct part of a murder trial outside the regular courtroom.

The opinion ruled that "where physical incapacity of a witness to appear in the court room makes it necessary to hold proceedings elsewhere, such a move does not constitute an abuse of judicial discretion if the commonwealth, the defense and the public are all represented."

The ruling sustained conviction of Joseph Trinkle, 21, of first degree murder. The murder was witnessed by an ill woman who could not be moved from her home. Accordingly "court" was moved to her sick room and her testimony taken.

"There is no statute in Pennsylvania," the opinion stated, "which in terms states a court must be held in the court house."

FUNERAL OF THE LATE S. C. WATTS

Brief funeral services for the late S. C. Watts were held at Curwensville at 1:30 this afternoon, following which the remains were taken to the home of his brother D. H. Watts, near Kerrmoor. The funeral services will be held there Thursday afternoon at 2:30. Interment will be made in the Watts cemetery.

Proper obituary notice will appear in this paper at a later date.

MINE WAGE SCALE CONFERENCE TO BE AT ALTOONA MAR. 18

March 18 is designated in a bulletin issued by the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers' association as the probable date of the joint meeting of miners and operators of this district for the purpose of effecting an agreement to take the place of the wage scale contract which expires on April 1.

A separate agreement from that made by the operators and miners of the Central Competitive Field at Jacksonville, Fla., more than a week ago, when the present wage scale was extended for a period of three is necessary in the Central Pennsylvania field because the operators in this district were not members of the conference which signed the Jacksonville agreement.

The United Mine Workers of Central Pennsylvania will meet in Altoona on March 11 to frame the demands they will put before the operators.

TAKEN TO PITTSBURGH

Sheriff T. J. Lowell left on the 8:20 Pennsylvania train this morning, having in charge Mrs. Grace Sorto, the Erlton woman, who was sentenced by Judge Chase last week to serve not less than three nor more than six years in the penitentiary for the killing of John Louno at Tyler on Dec. 1, 1923. Launo had slandered the woman and the shooting which ended his life followed his refusal to retract the slanderous stories told about Mrs. Sorto.

The woman is but 28 years of age and the mother of three children, the oldest being but 10 years of age.

C. C. C. IS SUCCESSFUL IN EFFORT TO HAVE SAFETY SIGNALS ON TWO BAD CROSSINGS

The Commercial Club live wires met last evening at Jordan's Hotel with a representative attendance. The Civic Affairs Committee thru Mr. E. L. Peterson made some interesting announcements for the future and their accomplishments have been the new wig wag red light signal at the Nichols street crossing of the B. R. & P. R. By unanimous vote the club authorized the payment of $35.00 to the High Sohcol Athletic Association for expenses in connection for their moving pictures made last fall.

The Community Chest project was presented by Mr. P. B. Reed and considerable discussion was entered into to gain a better knowledge of this proposition to which both Mr. Reed and Mr. W. H. Wilson replied in explaining the details and the subject was left open for the consideration of the club members.

Dr. J. Paul Frantz, chairman of the Lakes to Sea Highway Committee presented some attractive plans of his committee in regard to advertising this Highway in which Clearfield is the prominent factor.

J. Clyde Myton, Secretary of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation of Harrisburg and which organization is affiliated with the American Automobile Association, was the speaker of the evening and he presented the advantages of an Automobile Club to a community. He featured the assistance given by this association in securing good roads, its successful efforts in preventing the passage of Federal and State tax laws effecting

"CHIN MUSIC" ONE OF THE FEATURES OF COUNCIL MEET

Shade Tree Commission Given Appropriation to Carry on Good Work; Discuss Alley Paving.

TREASURY IS FINE

The regular session of the Town Council held at the Borough building last evening was productive of much talk, but not a whole lot of business transacted. This was due largely to the fact that plans for future activities are in the making and these plans necessitated much "chin music" before getting properly underway.

President Rosser was at the helm and, all told, eight of the twelve answered "present" to the roll call.

Just to sort of steam up the proceedings a little, Treasurer Whiteman reported a balance of $38,406.20 in the borough's strong box just waiting to be spent.

Want Various Improvements

D. D. Guppy, representing the Loyal Order of Moose, and C. F. Brohl, of the Penn Public Service Company, were present and asked that Council include an adequate surface water sewer in their proposed improvements for Market street.

A. E. Leitzinger, A. D. Bigler and A. W. Bigler, representing property owners on Front street, were present to inform Council that they were unable to get but about three fourths of the property owners on the street to go along on the two thirds plan for the paving of this street, but that all would go along on the fifty-fifty plan. The question was discussed at length but no definite action taken. The Street Committee and Borough Engineer were directed to get an estimate of the cost of such improvement and report at next meeting in order that Council may determine whether or not they will be able to pave the street under either proposed plan this year.

WATER POWER MORE IMPORTANT THAN FISH SAYS PINCHOT'S ATTORNEY GENERAL

Harrisburg, Pa., March 4 (INS.)—While fishing is important, power development cannot be retarded to open the rivers to migratory fish, Attorney General Woodruff today advised Charles E. Hayes of Harrisburg. Hayes had protested to the state authorities because the fish way at the McCall's ferry dam proved impracticable and ruined fishing in the upper reaches of the Juniata and Susquehanna rivers.

Following the complaint Commissioner of Fisheries Buller again investigated the dam to discover if a fishway could be made practicable there. Buller discovered that a shad will not swim past a shadow and that the fish made no effort to pass the fishway on days when the sun shone.

Woodruff in a letter to Hayes said that "irrespective of the presence of dams in our Pennsylvania rivers, the pollution of our rivers and industrial wastes would have cut down the available amount of shad to a woeful extent."

He said that as a member of the sanitary water board he is bending every effort to prevent stream pollution.

The Attorney General asserts that putting the power corporations' interests ahead of the fishermen is not aimed to "further the interest of any wealthy class but to conserve the general public interest in the utilization of water power possibilities in our rivers."

The letter to Hayes is the first official recognition of the fact that power development has become more important than the interest of the shad fishermen who in the days prior to the building of the dam, seized tons of them each year from the rivers of the state.

Want More Alleys Paved

Property owners along the alley leading from Market to Cherry street between Third and Fourth streets and the alley leading from Pine to Reed, between Second and Third streets, presented petitions asking that these alleys be paved, under the plan adopted by Council several years ago, the property owners paying two-thirds the cost of such paving. The purpose of this plan was to get the alleys in the business district paved and thereby relieve the streets of a lot of heavy hauling and also remove the source of a lot of dirt upon the paved streets. The petitions were referred to the Highway Committee for report at next meeting.

TURKISH NATIONAL ASSEMBLY GIVES BOOT TO CALIPH

Constantinople, March 3.—The National Assembly at Angora today passed a bill calling for the deposition of the Caliph and the abolition of the caliphate.

The Caliph is the "representative" of Mahomet, Islam's prophet, and the abolition of the caliphate will end the control of the spiritual supremacy of Mohammadanism by the Ottoman Turks. It would seem that the present rulers of Turkey would hesitate to dispossess their country of this once powerful influence over world Islam, but there is no telling what deep plans for the spread of pan Islam Kemal Pasha and his friends may have concerled behind this move. It was in the early part of the Sixteenth Century that Sultan Selim I of Turkey conquered Egypt and deposed the last Fatimite caliph. Since that time the Turkish sultans have united in their persons the political and religious powers which Mahomet and his successors had wielded until that time, theoretically at least, for from the time of Wathik the real political power had been exercised by the commanders of their Turkish bodyguard. Kemal Pasha and his fellow rulers of Turkey are radicals who have little use for religion itself, but who probably see that by abolition of the caliphate they can put religion under the control of the state, just as the Russian Soviet, though non-religious itself, has connived at the establishment of a new Russian church, and, while forbidding the teaching of religion to the growing generation, it professedly permits the free existence of any and all religions in Russia, and thereby has secured many apologists for Soviet rule in other countries.

Hunter's Drug Store Get Agency For Wonderful New Remedy

Amazing Relief Secured by Hundreds in Other Sections Causes Local Druggists to Secure Sales Rights

Not an Experiment But a Proven Success—Money Back if You Are Not Satisfied

Sickness knows no territory; poor health no home. A poor stomach is just as painful and just as annoying in Clearfield as it would be in Atlanta, Ga., or Worcester, Mass.

What will help a weak stomach in one section will prove equally beneficial in another, and it was that fact that caused the druggists of Clearfield to secure the sales rights for Sulac, a remedy that has behind it a history of marvelous success in other places.

That their judgment was good has already been proven, even though it has been but a few days since the first announcement was made that Sulac had been brought here. It is the opinion of those who have investigated the merits of this remedy that it will be as popular here within thirty days as it is in the places where it has been on sale for a long time.

Sulac, if you don't already know what it is, revives the digestion, stirs up the appetite and tones up the whole system in a remarkable manner. It has a long record of success in relieving chronic cases that have withstood treatment for years. The statement that Elsear Roy, 16 Puritan Avenue, Worcester, makes in the column to the right is typical of the results it has obtained.

Drop into your nearest drug store and ask about Sulac. Find out all about it—it will stand the closest investigation. The manufacturers stand squarely behind Sulac. They authorize every druggist selling it to refund the purchase price to anyone who gives it a fair trial and is not satisfied with the results.

You get no benefit from food that sours and ferments in your stomach. Such a condition upsets your whole system. Sulac relieved this condition for one of the East's prominent cash register men. Read what he has to say in the second column to the right.

If you are run down, have headaches, constipation, heart burn, stomach catarrh, gastritis, acute indigestion or are losing weight, try Sulac and see what a change it will make in you.

He Quit Trying To Eat. Stomach Upset So Easy

Cramps, Pain, Indigestion So Bad, Quit Work, Was Almost A Nervous Wreck

TAKES SULAC—NOW O. K.—BACK TO WORK

"This new medicine they are introducing is worth its weight in gold for folks with stomach complaints," declared Elsear Roy, 16 Puritan Ave. "I'm a carpenter by trade—do lots of climbing on scaffolds, but my stomach got so bad—my nerves were so shaky and my whole health was so poor I had to quit work. I was scared blue to do any climbing. I felt hungry now and then but didn't dare eat much on account of the awful cramps, gas and indigestion attacks. My tongue was coated all the time. I know my breath was bad, but though I tried a lot of remedies nothing did me any good and I was going down hill fast. Finally I started taking this wonderful stuff called Sulac and three bottles gave me a new lease on life. It's a real honest to goodness medicine and I feel one hundred per cent fine. I feel better than I have in four years and am weighing about 190 pounds, working every day and enjoying big meals, work and recreation like I wish. Thanks to Sulac I'm a new man and I consider it worth its weight in gold for stomach complaints," continued Mr. Roy, member Local 408, St. Jean the Baptist Society and other organizations, in Worcester.

Read what other users say above and on the right. Anybody can get the same results. Sulac is the very finest, powerful remedy money can buy. See directions on each bottle. Relief guaranteed on full treatment or money back.

Sulac Stops Business Man's Stomach Trouble

Bilious, Sour, Indigestion Spells, Sluggish Liver, Had Him Worried

TOOK SULAC, NOW EATS, SLEEPS, FEELS DANDY

"Yes, indeed, that new remedy they are selling down at Green's is the best thing I ever saw," declared Daniel J. Lucy, one of Worcester's best-known cash register men. "I'm tickled to death my friends recommended Sulac to me, because my stomach was in terrible condition, causing me great discomfort after a meal. I'd gag, bloat up and sometimes vomit. The gas made me belch and made my mouth taste bad constantly. Food soured and fermented down in my stomach. My nerve were so unstrung I couldn't sleep nights, and yet, since I started taking Sulac, my stomach trouble has all disappeared. My liver is active. I sleep, eat and feel fine, and consider it a wonderful remedy. I recommend Sulac, and the Green Drug Store is surely wise in advertising and recommending a preparation like this," continued Mr. Lucy, Walker Building, Worcester, Mass.

See what another Sulac user has to say in the next column.

Sulac is sold by Hunter's Drug Store and other high class druggists.

KING PIN TRAPPER HIT UP

Mr. J. D. C.
The Progress:

Under the heading "Odds and Ends and Things," issue of February 26th, you speak of certain trappers who have done the business in the "wild cat belt" of our county. A great many "tin-horn" sports have sought to add to their laurels by using the honorary title of "Trapper," but I know of but one honest-to-goodness, he-man trapper, he-subsist; a modest resident of [illegible] and he has gained his fame in matching wits with one of the most wily and cunning of animals—Sir Reynard, of the noble fox tribe.

The trapper in question answers to the roll-call at the breakfast table when the name "Gust" Kelley is uttered. Gust is a life-long resident of this region, and comes of early pioneer stock. His forebears arrived here early in the eighteenth century to carve out their homes in the wilderness. He knows the habits and the haunts of wild game, and it is his delight to succeed in their capture where others have failed.

I am not familiar with the exact procedure practised by Gust in the capture of foxes. Were I, very likely I would forsake my present occupation and become a trapper. From what I have heard, however, he proceeds something like this:

When Mr. Fox is hot upon the trail of poor defenseless Brer Rabbit and encounters Gust, the latter makes a few mysterious but magic passes with his hands, speaks a few words in the French dialect, and presto! Sir Reynard is completely under his spell. Straightway he leaves the trail of poor bunny to follow Gust, the magician, into the village! His harvest of fox furs disposed of this winter must be near to the [illegible], which record speaks for itself.

Gust has had the misfortune to lose several foxes by reason of their escape from his traps. In one instance, during the heat of action, an "animal" of the two-legged variety, removed a fox from one of his sets. Gust was, and still is, considerably "hot under the collar" over this depredation. He has traces of the fox; if not recompensed one need not be surprised, later, to find a hairless hide among his collection removed from the carcass of a two-legged "animal."

Of other furs Gust has secured his full quota; but his reputation in the art of trapping has been built up and will stand on his phenomenal success in the capture of sly Sir Reynard the fox.

The local chapter D. A. R. have arrangements well along in the making for the placing of a suitable monument over the grave of Ludwig Snyder, a revolutionary war soldier, who is buried in the cemetery at New Washington, this county. At present there is a marker over the grave which bears this inscription "Ludwig Snyder, Continental Army U. S. A."

Snyder has quite a history and was evidently a true "soldier of fortune." He was born in Holland, but came to this country in time to participate in the revolutionary war on the side of the Coonies, and returning to Europe for a time following the war. Victor Hugo in his "Les Miserables" makes the following reference to Snyder in the last part of the novel in describing the funeral of Gen Lafayette in 1832: "In the crowd which surrounded and cheered Lafayette himself was noticed a German named Ludwig Snyder, who died a centenarian afterwards, who had also been in the war of 1776 and who had fought at Trenton with Washington and at Brandywine under Lafayette."

Ludwig Snyder again returned to America and died in the New Washington country and was buried in the little cemetery there. Several of his descendants are yet living in that section.

Scent in Gems.

The perfume of precious stones was discussed in a lecture in Geneva recently, says the New York World, by the French jewel expert De Hensehier. Some stones, such as the emerald, he said, give a subtle, pleasant scent when reduced to powder, while others, among them diamonds, have a disagreeable odor.

Kellogg's Bran did more in two weeks than medicine taken in 20 years

Out of regard for your own health, read this letter:

Gentlemen:
Your "Krumbled Bran," used by me as a cereal, has done more for me in two weeks than the hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine I have taken in last twenty years for constipation. It is wonderful, and it is so simple. Yours truly,
Arlington H. Carman,
Patchogue, N. Y.

Mr. Carman's experience has been duplicated in thousands of homes. Why does Kellogg's Bran succeed when drugs and pills fail? The answer is simple. Drugs have an unnatural effect upon the bowels. They irritate the intestines. The more they are used, the more one has to use. Finally, they have no effect at all.

Kellogg's Bran STIMULATES the intestines. It cleans, sweeps and purifies them. It acts exactly as nature acts. And it is never necessary to increase the amount eaten. If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to bring permanent relief to the most chronic cases of constipation, or your grocer returns your money. For Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be so effective. That is why doctors recommend Kellogg's.

The wonderful, nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran is exclusive. It is delicious—totally unlike ordinary brans. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream and in the recipes on every package. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

The influence of the straight line style appears in all the good models for spring---a pleasing change to all well dressed men, both for comfort and appearance.

In the new styles, the cut is the important things, as always. The cut of your suit decides whether or not it is correct.

That's why we have Hart Schaffner & Marx and Society Brand. Their cut is not approached by any other ready-to-wear clothing. We will be glad to have you look them over.

PHILLIPS AND PROHIBITION

"Obedience to the law is not an academic matter," says Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania. "It is personal. And so long as I am Governor, I will appoint no man to public office who has not given me his personal pledge to obey all laws, including those enacted to make effective the Eighteenth Amendment to the federal constitution."

"Obeying all laws" is a pretty difficult matter, in a land where legislation runs to quantity production. But what Governor Pinchot really insists on is personal observance on the part of public officials of laws which he regards as vital. For reasons valid in his state and in many other states, he puts strong emphasis on the prohibition laws.

"I found that all over the state," he explains, "officials, sworn to obey the law, were breaking it openly and otherwise. Therefore I decided to ask this personal pledge." He regards it as intolerable that the public representatives of the state should set an example in law-breaking, especially in a matter so vitally affecting the morals, health and efficiency of the community. It is hard enough at best to check the bootlegging. It is infinitely harder when public servants patronize the bootleggers.

The Progress believes that Mr. Pinchot, in order to carry out his campaign pledges, is warranted to exacting such a pledge from all in his official family who are charged with the enforcement of the prohibition laws because the success or failure of his administration rests not on himself but on his governmental organization.

But, the policy of the Game Commission was, and is, in no way related to the problem of prohibition enforcement. It works on a separate fund and its able head, who has had charge for more than twenty years and who has made this state a "sportsman's paradise", has never drawn a cent of pay and probably never turned in an expense account. He has been heading the Game Commission all these years with no thought of remuneration except that he hand down to the coming generation the advantages and happiness enjoyed by our fathers. Should he be re-named, by no stretch of the imagination should he be concerned with prohibition enforcement except insofar as all good citizens are concerned.

A member of Gifford Pinchot's cabinet would be expected to be in complete harmony with Mr. Pinchot's views and would sacrifice no principle in publicly subscribing to them and pledging his support. For his services and that support to the chief who appointed him he would receive his pay.

But, John M. Phillips, as head of the Game Commission, knew no law but the game code and he administered it without fear or favor and without criticism. He swore allegiance to no power but his God, his country and the great call of Nature and he is such a lover of wild life that, although an expert marksman, his rifle for more than a quarter of a century has been pointed at nothing but a pasteboard target.

One can appreciate the position of John M. Phillips who, after having given unstintingly of his time for over twenty years, now refuses to accept a re-appointment except on terms which he considers humiliating.

The success of prohibition enforcement depends on making friends for the cause. How the Governor figures that such a dumping on the scrap heap of an able sacrificing official is going to make prohibition more popular is beyond our ken.

THE SITUATION BEGINS TO CLARIFY!

Progress Editorials for Women

GOOD TIMES

By FLORENCE DAVIES

It doesn't matter very much whether a girl in her teens has a good time or whether she doesn't, is the revolutionary statement made by Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale in a recent address about the young people of today.

Such a statement challenges the attention of the strictest type of parent. For no mother, no matter how strict and old-fashioned she be in her ideas about the conduct of her daughter, would willingly deprive her children of good times.

It is true that such parents often have their own rather restricted ideas of what constitutes a good time, as that phrase is interpreted by the young of today.

But none of them would come right out and admit that good times didn't matter.

Perhaps, however, Mrs. Hale was merely trying to shock her hearers into attention, for she goes on to explain her statement.

"Good times for your daughter do not matter," she says. "It is all important that she should be happy, but happiness and a good time have little relation to each other."

So you see it's mostly a matter of words, after all. Though there is something worth thinking about in Mrs. Hale's distinction between the two things. "Happiness is a spiritual thing," she says. "It is the result of enriching the mind. A good time is an artificial thing. It is excitement and depends upon the gratification of the senses."

One thing is certain, and that is that the type of happiness which is the result of an interested and enriched mind is more lasting than what Mrs. Hale calls a good time.

One of the most pitiful sights in the world is the middle-aged or elderly man or woman with plenty of money and plenty of leisure, but with no resources for enjoyment.

They are doubtless the people who in their youth had little inward happiness, but many good times. Old age is wearied with the coming and going that used to spell good times, and with minds unfurnished with those inward resources for the enjoyment of the world around them, time hangs heavy on their hands. If two people can't be really happy once in a while just staying at home together, there's something wrong with the people or with the home, especially when those two people are mother and daughter.

The most remarkable bird colony in the world is on Hat Island, in the Great Salt lake, Utah. Universal Belief in Charms

Do you carry a lucky piece in your pocket or wear a charm on a ribbon round your throat? If you do you have plenty of company. Belief in charms and amulets is one of the most deeply rooted of all superstitions and is constantly appearing on the surface of civilized life. Most any devotee of these trinkets and baubles will swear by them.

J. W. Boyd Gives Clever Checker Exhibition

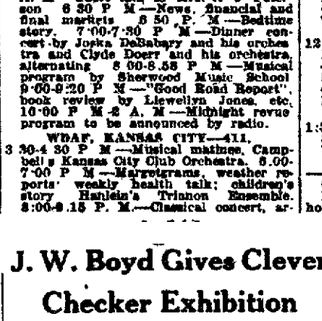
the black checkers. But even with this handicap, and the running talk by the bystanders he succeeded in winning six of the games, drawing two with Samuel Mitchell and J. T. McClintock, and losing very close games with Edward Hile and James Mitchell, Sr.

There was a collection of checker boards, no two alike in size or color or checkers, which made it difficult for the exhibiting player, Mr. Boyd, but this did not disturb him and he received the hearty approbation of the crowd on his systematic, steady play. As fast as he finished with a player, there was another man to take his place and Mr. Boyd played many additional games, lasting two and a half hours in all. This being the first attempt upon the part of the exhibitor he deserves much praise for his good record. He was quite satisfied with the result, having defeated two of the younger men whom he knew were checker players of experience. Following the exhibition he explained the working out of a number of intricate checker problems recently published by the "Checkerist" a monthly magazine which is on file in the Y. M. C. A. reading room. The committee promised Mr. Boyd an experienced referee to direct the exhibition when he will repeat the demonstration at the close of the checker tournament.

Chairman William Bigler, of the Social and Games Committee, announced the drawings of the senior elimination checker tournament as follows, the following games to be played this week: Roy I. Fulton vs. Gordon Herrington; William E. Muntz vs. Samuel Mitchell; James Mitchell Jr., vs. J. T. McClintock; L. N. Rougeaux vs. L. J. Shankle; Clair Fetzer vs. Raymond Edwards; James Mitchell, Sr., vs. H. J. Hoover; Edward Hile vs. S. L. Warner; H. W. Kinkead vs. G. B. Fehl. Mr. Warner, chairman of the Boys' Work Committee, and always ready for help in anything, substituted for J. E. Wilkinson, who was called out of town for two weeks. The best out of three games will decide the winner. As this is an elimination tournament, the champion will be required to defeat four men.

Matches already scheduled for the tournament are: Shankle vs. Rougeaux, Wednesday night at 7 o'clock; Thursday night 7:30, James Mitchell, Sr., vs. H. J. Hoover, and Edwards vs. Fetzer. These contests will take place in the Y. M. C. A. lobby.

Plans for the inter-boro contest between Olanta and Clearfield are progressing and expect to be played between two five man teams next Monday night. Paul Mays is rounding up the checkerists of Olanta, while J. W Boyd will pick the team to represent Clearfield. The match will be played at the Clearfield Y. M. C. A.



"I am near 60 years, but I feel as young as I did at 30. I take a cupful of BulgarianTea once or twice a week It keeps me healthy and strong and makes me feel young again," said H. H. Von Schlick, manufacturer of Bulgarian Herb Tea.

To break up a bad cold you must take a cupful at bedtime. Bad colds often turn into Influenza or Pneumonia and thousands die every year.

Sick people should be careful not to use harsh, drastic or habit-forming drugs.

My Bugarian Tea is compounded of the freshest and purest herbs and is positively harmless.

Just remember I have made this tea for sick people for over twenty-five years and today millions are using it. Ask your druggist for by genuine Bulgarian Tea with my name on it in the red and yellow box.

THIS NEW KID LOOKS LIKE TROUBLE!

School Laws in Switzerland.

In Switzerland if a child does not attend school on a particular day the parent gets notice from the public authority that he is fined so many francs; the second day the fine is increased, and by the third day the amount becomes a serious one. In case of sickness the pupil is excused, but if there is any suspicion of shamming a doctor is sent to the house.

Cheap Enough!

The flash of lightning that rips the sky from horizon to horizon looks beautiful—but, according to scientific calculations, is worth only about one dollar, in terms of modern central station service rates.

Queer Superstition.

In Madagascar, the natives have a curious superstition about the striped partridge; anyone finding a nest of this bird and not breaking the eggs, causes the death of his mother.

A Huge Topaz.

A topaz, 10 by 17 inches, weighing about 100 pounds, has been sent to the Field museum, of Chicago, by a gem hunter in Brazil.

Must Do "Bearing."

Our nerves are out of order when we "can't bear" this or "can't bear" that. We're in this world to do a good deal of bearing.

Big Increase in Number of Cows

Dairying Around New York and Other Cities Makes Good Showing.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

That farmers are constantly on the alert to take advantage of new opportunities as they arise is typically illustrated by the development of dairying around New York city, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Growth of the urban population and improved methods of handling and shipping milk have steadily widened the field of distribution. This is shown by the fact that from 1880 to 1920 the number of cows on farms in counties nearest the city increased 50 per cent, while the number on farms from 200 to 225 miles away more than doubled.

Increase in Fluid Milk.

Fluid milk sold from the farms nearest the city doubled in quantity from 1880 to 1920, and quadrupled in the case of the farms farthest away. Counties nearest the city reached their maximum dairy production by 1900. Those situated more than 150 miles away made gain of practically one-third between 1900 and 1920. Similar extensions in dairying areas have been made, through a lesser degree, around other large cities.

Another example of wholesale readjustment in farming policies due to a changed condition is furnished by the country along the Gulf and Atlantic coasts, where climatic conditions make the fight against the boll weevil exceptionally hard. Cotton acreage in parts of this region has been cut 50 per cent. Farmers are turning to the production of farm maintenance crops—velvet beans, peanuts, other forage crops, and pasture for the extension of hog raising, beef production and dairying. In some localities sugar cane for sirup, sweet potatoes, watermelons and other truck crops, are receiving increased attention.

Farming Is Uncertain.

Readjustments now taking place in agriculture, say officials of the department, draw attention to a fact sometimes forgotten, namely, that changes are always going on in the basic conditions of farming due to the growth and distribution of population, the rise or fall of wages and prices, the heightened or lessened cost of transportation, crop pests and diseases, and other influences. Wide-awake farmers are quick to note these changes and modify their production policies accordingly. Farming today is more uncertain than it has been for many years. It is undergoing more necessary readjustments. Farmers who study the situation, and alter their plans to suit the circumstances, will be the first to cut their losses on crops that for any reason have become unprofitable, and the first to get their farms back on a paying basis.

Missouri River Longest.

The Missouri river is not only the longest river in the United States, but it is the longest river in the world. Its actual length in miles is 4,194; the Amazon, the next longest, which traverses Brazil in South America, 3,944 miles. The Hoang-Ho in China and the Murray in Australia rank next with 3,000 miles each. The Nile, often thought of as the greatest of rivers, is in reality only 2,61[illegible] long.

Europe's Legend.

The legend concerning the naming of Europe is that a beautiful girl by the name of Europa was abducted by Jupiter, in the form of a white bull, and carried to Europe which continent took its name from her.

Game Fund of State Much Desired

intention to resign if the board was placed under such condition. The Governor shelved the plan for the time being.

Disregards Own Probers.

Pennsylvania sportsmen were given the impression, in Governor Pinchot's re-election campaign, that he would make no change in the administration of game affairs. Before the governor assumed office he appointed a committee to investigate both the game and fish departments with the purpose in view of recommending needed changes. The game commission's work was "probed" by Frederick C. Walcott, director of the American Game Protective Association, and Ray B. Holland formerly of the Biological survey at Washington, both conservationists and game authorities of national standing. Both men gave the Keystone commission the highest praise. Said Mr. Walcott:

"I think that no one can successfully dispute the statement that Pennsylvania stands at the head of the eastern states in the protection and the propagation of her game resources. . . . All the experts who are familiar with the work of the eastern game commissions, so far as I have been able to get their opinions, rate Pennsylvania first, not only in the total amount of native game killed, but in the amount of native game killed per capita." And again: "The present commission is unquestionably made up of men of the highest character, with a singleness of purpose and devotion to the best interests of the state seldom found in a commission composed of volunteers."

Sportsmen Satisfied.

Mr. Holland's report is even stronger in support of Pennsylvania's present system of administering its game resources. In part he said:

"The sportsmen are satisfied as to their present plans and policies have made Pennsylvania one of the greatest game states in the Union, from a state that was practically shot out when they took hold of it. I attribute this to the fact that they have had high class men interested in the work continuously for 25 years, who are willing and able to give both their time and their money to the cause. When a new man was appointed, in place of considering it an honorary appointment, he took the example set by such men as Dr. Charles B. Penrose, John M. Phillips and William B. McCaleb and buckled down to work.

"These men pay their own railroad and hotel expenses. . . . I consider it a most remarkable record, showing that these men sacrifice their own personal and business interests for that of the sportsmen of the state.

Urges No Tampering.

"I conscientiously say I can offer no further suggestion for the betterment of the lot of the outdoor man in Pennsylvania. I consider that state foremost at the present time among the different states which rank at the top in game matters, and I dread to think of tampering with a machine which time has proved to be very nearly perfect."

Concerning the attitude of the sportsmen toward proposed changes in the system, Mr. Holland said there "seems to be a fear that the department will be combined and either now or later get into politics, which has 'shot things to pieces' in New York and elsewhere."

Noted in Mining World.

Mr. Philips' achievements as a conservationist have necessitated diverting considerable time and energy from his business interests. He is well known as an engineer and inventor, and has designed mining machinery now in use all over the world wherever coal is mined. In addition he is president of on of the largest companies manufacturing mine supplies in the United States.

Many years before this he conceived and carried out the idea of enlisting the school children in the conservation service by distributing bird boxes and food-bearing trees for planting in the Allegheny schools, a movement which has spread practically all over the country.

Mr. Phillips was perhaps the first to conceive the idea of game refuges combined with public shooting ground. In 1901 he explored a piece of territory between the Bull and Elk river of British Columbia and, with his friend, Dr. William T. Hornaday, the noted naturalist, succeeded in having about 500,000 acres of virgin territory, well stocked with its native wild life set aside as a refuge, in the center of a considerable area open to public hunting. This is believed to be the first public park set aside primarily as a game refuge on the North American continent.

This idea afterwards was adopted by Pennsylvania's game commission and is known as the Pennsylvania game refuge system. The sportsmen of the United States now are trying to apply this system on a national scale, under federal law, to refuges and public shooting grounds for wild ducks and other migratory birds.

Hunting With Camera.

Mr. Phillips was one of the first hunter-naturalists to carry the camera into the hunting fields and in 1922 was awarded, by the American Museum of Natural History, first prize in a world-wide exhibit of photgraphs of wild animals in their natural habits for a picture of a male mountain goat taken on a peak in the Canadian Rockies at the risk of his life.

Mr. Phillips is president of the Lewis and Clark club of big game hunters, vice president of the International Association of Conservation Commissioners and is affiliated with many other conservation organizations. He was awarded in 1920 the gold medal of the Permanent Wild Life Protection fund for "distinguished services to wild life" and with the late President Roosevelt was one of the three first men made honorary members of the Campfire Club of America in recognition of their service for conservation.

Observing Other Planets.

On the moon, as well as on Mars there are many varied shades and tints of color to be seen; greens and blues browns yellows and reddish browns as well as black white and grays. A study of the color effects produced by our own vegetation and vast seas when viewed from great elevations may aid in an interpretation of the splotches of color that are easily observable on Mars and the moon.

Jews Are a Nation.

Loosely, the term "Jews" means the Semitic nation that was earlier called Hebrews, Israelites, or the children of Israel; strictly, the term is applied to the people descended from the tribes of Judah and Benjamin. The Jews still remain a distinct people and retain their nationality.

Weasel's Coat Quickly Whitens.

Totemism.

Totemism was, and still is, a system of tribal division among many primitive races of men, its origin dating back to the people of prehistoric times. Natural objects, usually an animal, bird, fish, or reptile, were taken as a totem, both for clans and individuals. The representation of individual totems in many regions the earth was often painted upon bodies, or painted or otherwise worked upon such possessions as blanket skins of animals, utensils, and shields.

PRESENT SITUATION IN BOTH PARTIES IS WITHOUT PARALLEL

Harding and Wilson, Who Rode Down Pa. Ave. 3 Years Ago Both Removed from Scene.

WHO CAN PREDICT?

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
(I N S. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington March 4.—The three quarter post in the quadrennial Presidential sweepstakes today found a situation that political leaders declare is absolutely without parallel in American politics.

Three years ago this fourth of March, Warren G. Harding rode triumphantly down Pennsylvania Avenue to be inaugurated President by the most smashing and decisive verdict ever rendered at the polls—seven million majority was his.

One year from today his elected successor will also journey down the avenue.

The three years have been fraught with momentous happenings.

Harding and the war wrecked man who rode beside him that day are gone. A new President, unlike either of his two immediate predecessors, sits in the executive mansion. Washington and the country are rocking with the greatest series of political controversies in governmental history.

Politicians of every shade of opinion were soberly asking themselves today, what of the next year and endeavoring to peer beyond the haze of uncertainty and doubt that hangs low over the political horizon.

The one item in the mind of every political leader in the capital today was

"What will be the effect of the great oil scandal?"

The answers were as varied as the questioners themselves.

The Republicans are apprehensive, but scarcely less so than the Democrats. Men high in the councils of both parties have been or will be swayed by oily brushes of whisper and innuendo before November from a thousand partisan platforms.

Republicans are hopeful that under the guidance of Coolidge and the new regime the party will emerge unaffected by the revelations of the past few months.

Democrats are hopeful that a shocked and disillusioned electorate will make its feelings manifest at the polls and turn once again to the party that carried through the last two administrations.

But from no leader of consequence on either Republican or Democratic, was it possible today to get a sincere prediction as to what the future holds politically. They simply shook their heads and said:

"Wait."

A SURPRISE MARRIAGE

Mr. Carroll Breth and Miss Laura Rupert of Clearfield, surprised their many friends by slipping quietly away to Hollidaysburg, Pa., and getting married, Feb. 15th, 1924.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Warner have moved into their new bungalow on Elm street.

TAX REDUCTION PLAN NOW BEFORE HOUSE WILL SUIT THE PRESIDENT

Washington, March 3. (INS.)—Administration leaders in the Senate received word from the White House today that the Tax Reduction Bill as passed by the House is satisfactory to President Coolidge.

This means that the Republican regulars in the Senate will not work to cut the surtax rates or increase the normal income tax rates fixed by the House, but will satisfy themselves with defending the bill against onslaughts of the Democrats and Republican Insurgents.

TWO MEN FOUND ON PENNSY TRACK NEAR PHILIPSBURG; KILLED

Brickyarder Finds the Bodies about 10 o'clock Last Evening; Identity By Pocket Contents.

ONE WAR VETERAN

Two men were killed by a Pennsylvania freight train on the tracks of that road near the Harbison-Walker brick works at Stiners or Chester Hill last night. The mangled remains of the men were found along the railroad track about 10:30 o'clock by Ernest Raybold as he was going to work at the brick yard.

The rail victims were hobos or travelers, one of whom at least had been about that section for the past several months off and on. They had evidently been sitting or lying on the track. The train which ran over them was the night freight running between Osceola and Clearfield.

Railroad Officer Henderson of Osceola, identified one of the men as a man whom he arrested for trespassing on the railroad at Osceola last December. At that time he was sent to Clearfield where he served 15 days in jail under the name of James Manion of New York City.

The other man carried an identification card on his person which gave his name as James J. Deacon, of 2135 Church lane, Philadelphia. He also had two army discharges showing he had served as a member of Co. L, 86th Inf., during the world war. His age was given as 29 years. Manion was about 49 years of age.

The remains were placed aboard the night passenger train on the Pennsylvania and brought into Philipsburg, where they were taken in charge by Undertaker Eboch and prepared for burial. They will be held pending word from relatives.

Washington-Broadway Limited Jumps Track Near Pittsburg Yards

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 4 INS.)—The Washington-Broadway Limited, crack Pennsylvania railroad flyer from Washington to Chicago was derailed just East of Bellevue station near here shortly after midnight, but no one was reported seriously injured. More than thirty passengers were thrown from their berths when the engine struck a huge rock which had tumbled down the hillside on the tracks.

Only the slow speed of the train leaving the Pittsburgh yards is believed to have averted a serious wreck. H. B. Shaffer, the engineer and W. A. Perry, the fireman saved their lives when they leaped clear of the engine cab as it hurtled into the 500-pound rock. Neither was seriously injured. The engine, tender, cloth car and one Pullman were derailed.

Perry who did not jump as soon as the engineer received a sprained ankle.

Tracks were torn up and twisted for fifty yards. Wrecking crews were at the scene of the wreck early today clearing the main line. The flyer was delayed three hours by the wreck.

J. W. Boyd Gives Clever Checker Exhibition At Y. M. C. A. Lobby Here

A large crowd of checker enthusiasts spent the greater part of last evening in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. watching the exhibition of checker playing by J. W. Boyd, who single handed tackled ten checker fans to as many games of checkers at the same time. The ten who were seated around the large circle of checker boards in order were S. L. Warner, Edward Hile, James Mitchell, Sr., Roy I. Fulton, James Mitchell, Jr., Raymond Edwards, R. W. Kinkead, L. J. Shankle, Samuel Mitchell and J. T. McClintock. These ten men took the black and each made their first move. Mr. Boyd completed his first round in one and a half minutes, and played a clever fast game throughout.

The fans, who were watching the game were so much interested in the games that they lost their sense of fairness to the single man and were offering moves to various men behind

Ex-Police Chief Hitt Is Again Flooding This Town With Bad Checks

Our late unlamented chief of police Peter Alexander Hitt, who was sent to the penitentiary for a year by Judge Quigley, of Centre county, for forging a note, is at liberty again, as his time was up several weeks ago.

Peter evidently likes to be in durance vile and don't propose to remain outside of prison walls for long if he can possibly "write" himself in again. The first notice local people had that Hitt was out again was received a week or two ago when local banks began to receive for collection checks written by the ex-police chief. One for $50 and another for $5, dated Sunbury, Pa., were received by one institution, while yesterday Chief of Police McMullin received an inquiry concerning Hitt from the chief of police of Massillon, Ohio. This gentleman says that a week or so ago Hitt approached him and said he was in charge of the insane asylum at Clearfield but had business at Massillon. Running short of funds he asked the chief if he would oblige him by cashing his check for $35 in order that he might get home. The chief obliged and, as was to be expected, the check, which was drawn on a Clearfield bank was returned to him marked "no funds."

The Massillon man is naturally as mad as a wet hen and is much interested in getting a line on Mr. Hitt.

GAME FUND OF STATE MUCH DESIRED BY THOSE WHO HAVE TRIED IN PAST TO OUST CHAIRMAN JOHN M. PHILLIPS

Governor Sought In His Code To Get Control of Sportsmen's Money and Control Appointments.

A HISTORY OF PHILLIPS

Governor Pinchot's refusal to name John M. Phillips to the State Game Commission is taken by Pennsylvania's 500,000 hunters as but another step in the campaign inaugurated several years ago to get a strangle hold on the commission and the big hunter's license fund. The sportsmen are assembling all over the state for the purpose of taking concerted action against the Governor in this matter.

Clearfield hunters meet tonight at the Court House to register their protest at the Governor's high-handed action.

The following history of the commission and Mr. Phillips is opportune now:—

The game commission, since its organization in 1895, has occupied an unique position in the state machinery in that its six members, while serving without pay and paying out of their own pocket all expenses incurred in looking after the affairs of the sportsmen of the state, have executive powers. They appoint all members of the game commission's working force and administer the hunters' money, raised through the resident hunters' license law, for the protection and propagation of game and for the protection of song and insectivorous birds. It has been the game commission's boast for years that it was "out of politics." Its efficiency under this system may be measured by the high position Pennsylvania has as a game state among the other states of the union.

Seeks to Hamper Work.

Mr. Pinchot sought, in connection with his reorganization code, to deprive the game commission of its executive powers and make it an advisory body only, to make the secretary of the game commission, now appointed by the commission itself, the head of the department appointed by the governor and having a seat in his cabinet and in this manner bring the sportsmen's self-sustaining game department into the state organization on the same terms as departments that are financed from the public funds, and subject to the same political vicissitudes.

This proposed status of the game commission, which, conservationists declare, has been inimical to the interests both of the sportsmen and wild life in other states, was opposed by Mr. Philips. In fact, all the members of the commission declared their

Not Necessary To Hold All Murder Trials In A Court House Says S. C.

Philadelphia, March 3 (INS.)—A precedent was established in Pennsylvania when the State Supreme court today decided it was not illegal to conduct part of a murder trial outside the regular courtroom.

The opinion ruled that "where physical incapacity of a witness to appear in the court room makes it necessary to hold proceedings elsewhere, such a move does not constitute an abuse of judicial discretion if the commonwealth, the defense and the public are all represented."

The ruling sustained conviction of Joseph Trinkle, 21, of first degree murder. The murder was witnessed by an ill woman who could not be moved from her home. Accordingly "court" was moved to her sick room and her testimony taken.

"There is no statute in Pennsylvania," the opinion stated, "which in terms states a court must be held in the court house."

FUNERAL OF THE LATE S. C. WATTS

The funeral services will be held there Thursday afternoon at 2:30. Interment will be made in the Watts cemetery.

MINE WAGE SCALE CONFERENCE TO BE AT ALTOONA MAR. 18

March 18 is designated in a bulletin issued by the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers' association as the probable date of the joint meeting of miners and operators of this district for the purpose of effecting an agreement to take the place of the wage scale contract which expires on April 1.

A separate agreement from that made by the operators and miners of the Central Competitive Field at Jacksonville, Fla., more than a week ago, when the present wage scale was extended for a period of three is necessary in the Central Pennsylvania field because the operators in this district were not members of the conference which signed the Jacksonville agreement.

The United Mine Workers of Central Pennsylvania will meet in Altoona on March 11 to frame the demands they will put before the operators.

TAKEN TO PITTSBURGH

Sheriff T. J. Lowell left on the 8:20 Pennsylvania train this morning, having in charge Mrs. Grace Sorto, the Erlton woman, who was sentenced by Judge Chase last week to serve not less than three nor more than six years in the penitentiary for the killing of John Louno at Tyler on Dec. 1, 1923. Launo had slandered the woman and the shooting which ended his life followed his refusal to retract the slanderous stories told about Mrs. Sorto.

The woman is but 28 years of age and the mother of three children, the oldest being but 10 years of age.

The Commercial Club live wires met last evening at Jordan's Hotel with a representative attendance. The Civic Affairs Committee thru Mr. E. L. By unanimous vote the club authorized the payment of $35.00 to the High Sohcol Athletic Association for expenses in connection for their moving pictures made last fall.

The Community Chest project was presented by Mr. P. B. Reed and considerable discussion was entered into to gain a better knowledge of this proposition to which both Mr. Reed and Mr. W. H. Wilson replied in explaining the details and the subject was left open for the consideration of the club members.

Dr. J. Paul Frantz, chairman of the Lakes to Sea Highway Committee presented some attractive plans of his committee in regard to advertising this Highway in which Clearfield is the prominent factor.

J. Clyde Myton, Secretary of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation of Harrisburg and which organization is affiliated with the American Automobile Association, was the speaker of the evening and he presented the advantages of an Automobile Club to a community. He featured the assistance given by this association in securing good roads, its successful efforts in preventing the passage of Federal and State tax laws effecting

"CHIN MUSIC" ONE OF THE FEATURES OF COUNCIL MEET

Shade Tree Commission Given Appropriation to Carry on Good Work; Discuss Alley Paving.

TREASURY IS FINE

The regular session of the Town Council held at the Borough building last evening was productive of much talk, but not a whole lot of business transacted. This was due largely to the fact that plans for future activities are in the making and these plans necessitated much "chin music" before getting properly underway.

President Rosser was at the helm and, all told, eight of the twelve answered "present" to the roll call.

Just to sort of steam up the proceedings a little, Treasurer Whiteman reported a balance of $38,406.20 in the borough's strong box just waiting to be spent.

Want Various Improvements

D. D. Guppy, representing the Loyal Order of Moose, and C. F. Brohl, of the Penn Public Service Company, were present and asked that Council include an adequate surface water sewer in their proposed improvements for Market street.

A. E. Leitzinger, A. D. Bigler and A. W. Bigler, representing property owners on Front street, were present to inform Council that they were unable to get but about three fourths of the property owners on the street to go along on the two thirds plan for the paving of this street, but that all would go along on the fifty-fifty plan. The question was discussed at length but no definite action taken. The Street Committee and Borough Engineer were directed to get an estimate of the cost of such improvement and report at next meeting in order that Council may determine whether or not they will be able to pave the street under either proposed plan this year.

WATER POWER MORE IMPORTANT THAN FISH SAYS PINCHOT'S ATTORNEY GENERAL

Harrisburg, Pa., March 4 (INS.)—While fishing is important, power development cannot be retarded to open the rivers to migratory fish, Attorney General Woodruff today advised Charles E. Hayes of Harrisburg. Hayes had protested to the state authorities because the fish way at the McCall's ferry dam proved impracticable and ruined fishing in the upper reaches of the Juniata and Susquehanna rivers.

Following the complaint Commissioner of Fisheries Buller again investigated the dam to discover if a fishway could be made practicable there. Buller discovered that a shad will not swim past a shadow and that the fish made no effort to pass the fishway on days when the sun shone.

Woodruff in a letter to Hayes said that "irrespective of the presence of dams in our Pennsylvania rivers, the pollution of our rivers and industrial wastes would have cut down the available amount of shad to a woeful extent."

He said that as a member of the sanitary water board he is bending every effort to prevent stream pollution.

The Attorney General asserts that putting the power corporations' interests ahead of the fishermen is not aimed to "further the interest of any wealthy class but to conserve the general public interest in the utilization of water power possibilities in our rivers."

The letter to Hayes is the first official recognition of the fact that power development has become more important than the interest of the shad fishermen who in the days prior to the building of the dam, seized tons of them each year from the rivers of the state.

Want More Alleys Paved

Property owners along the alley leading from Market to Cherry street between Third and Fourth streets and the alley leading from Pine to Reed, between Second and Third streets, presented petitions asking that these alleys be paved, under the plan adopted by Council several years ago, the property owners paying two-thirds the cost of such paving. The purpose of this plan was to get the alleys in the business district paved and thereby relieve the streets of a lot of heavy hauling and also remove the source of a lot of dirt upon the paved streets. The petitions were referred to the Highway Committee for report at next meeting.

TURKISH NATIONAL ASSEMBLY GIVES BOOT TO CALIPH

Constantinople, March 3.—The National Assembly at Angora today passed a bill calling for the deposition of the Caliph and the abolition of the caliphate.

The Caliph is the "representative" of Mahomet, Islam's prophet, and the abolition of the caliphate will end the control of the spiritual supremacy of Mohammadanism by the Ottoman Turks. It would seem that the present rulers of Turkey would hesitate to dispossess their country of this once powerful influence over world Islam, but there is no telling what deep plans for the spread of pan Islam Kemal Pasha and his friends may have concerled behind this move. It was in the early part of the Sixteenth Century that Sultan Selim I of Turkey conquered Egypt and deposed the last Fatimite caliph. Since that time the Turkish sultans have united in their persons the political and religious powers which Mahomet and his successors had wielded until that time, theoretically at least, for from the time of Wathik the real political power had been exercised by the commanders of their Turkish bodyguard. Kemal Pasha and his fellow rulers of Turkey are radicals who have little use for religion itself, but who probably see that by abolition of the caliphate they can put religion under the control of the state, just as the Russian Soviet, though non-religious itself, has connived at the establishment of a new Russian church, and, while forbidding the teaching of religion to the growing generation, it professedly permits the free existence of any and all religions in Russia, and thereby has secured many apologists for Soviet rule in other countries.

Hunter's Drug Store Get Agency For Wonderful New Remedy

Amazing Relief Secured by Hundreds in Other Sections Causes Local Druggists to Secure Sales Rights

Not an Experiment But a Proven Success—Money Back if You Are Not Satisfied

Sickness knows no territory; poor health no home. A poor stomach is just as painful and just as annoying in Clearfield as it would be in Atlanta, Ga., or Worcester, Mass.

What will help a weak stomach in one section will prove equally beneficial in another, and it was that fact that caused the druggists of Clearfield to secure the sales rights for Sulac, a remedy that has behind it a history of marvelous success in other places.

That their judgment was good has already been proven, even though it has been but a few days since the first announcement was made that Sulac had been brought here. It is the opinion of those who have investigated the merits of this remedy that it will be as popular here within thirty days as it is in the places where it has been on sale for a long time.

Sulac, if you don't already know what it is, revives the digestion, stirs up the appetite and tones up the whole system in a remarkable manner. It has a long record of success in relieving chronic cases that have withstood treatment for years. The statement that Elsear Roy, 16 Puritan Avenue, Worcester, makes in the column to the right is typical of the results it has obtained.

Drop into your nearest drug store and ask about Sulac. Find out all about it—it will stand the closest investigation. The manufacturers stand squarely behind Sulac. They authorize every druggist selling it to refund the purchase price to anyone who gives it a fair trial and is not satisfied with the results.

You get no benefit from food that sours and ferments in your stomach. Such a condition upsets your whole system. Sulac relieved this condition for one of the East's prominent cash register men. Read what he has to say in the second column to the right.

If you are run down, have headaches, constipation, heart burn, stomach catarrh, gastritis, acute indigestion or are losing weight, try Sulac and see what a change it will make in you.

He Quit Trying To Eat. Stomach Upset So Easy

Cramps, Pain, Indigestion So Bad, Quit Work, Was Almost A Nervous Wreck

TAKES SULAC—NOW O. K.—BACK TO WORK

"This new medicine they are introducing is worth its weight in gold for folks with stomach complaints," declared Elsear Roy, 16 Puritan Ave. "I'm a carpenter by trade—do lots of climbing on scaffolds, but my stomach got so bad—my nerves were so shaky and my whole health was so poor I had to quit work. I was scared blue to do any climbing. I felt hungry now and then but didn't dare eat much on account of the awful cramps, gas and indigestion attacks. My tongue was coated all the time. I know my breath was bad, but though I tried a lot of remedies nothing did me any good and I was going down hill fast. Finally I started taking this wonderful stuff called Sulac and three bottles gave me a new lease on life. It's a real honest to goodness medicine and I feel one hundred per cent fine. I feel better than I have in four years and am weighing about 190 pounds, working every day and enjoying big meals, work and recreation like I wish. Thanks to Sulac I'm a new man and I consider it worth its weight in gold for stomach complaints," continued Mr. Roy, member Local 408, St. Jean the Baptist Society and other organizations, in Worcester.

Sulac Stops Business Man's Stomach Trouble

TOOK SULAC, NOW EATS, SLEEPS, FEELS DANDY

"Yes, indeed, that new remedy they are selling down at Green's is the best thing I ever saw," declared Daniel J. Lucy, one of Worcester's best-known cash register men. "I'm tickled to death my friends recommended Sulac to me, because my stomach was in terrible condition, causing me great discomfort after a meal. I'd gag, bloat up and sometimes vomit. The gas made me belch and made my mouth taste bad constantly. Food soured and fermented down in my stomach. My nerve were so unstrung I couldn't sleep nights, and yet, since I started taking Sulac, my stomach trouble has all disappeared. My liver is active. I sleep, eat and feel fine, and consider it a wonderful remedy. I recommend Sulac, and the Green Drug Store is surely wise in advertising and recommending a preparation like this," continued Mr. Lucy, Walker Building, Worcester, Mass.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

KING PIN TRAPPER HIT UP

Mr. J. D. C.
The Progress:

Under the heading "Odds and Ends and Things," issue of February 26th, you speak of certain trappers who have done big business in the "wild cat belt" of our county. A great many "tin-horn" sports have sought to add to their laurels by using the honorary title of "Trapper," but I know of but one honest-to-goodness, he-man trapper, he-walrus; a modest resident of Clearfield, and he has gained his fame in matching wits with one of the most wily and cunning of animals—Sir Reynard, of the noble fox tribe.

The trapper in question answers to the roll-call at the breakfast table when the name "Gust" Kelley is uttered. Gust is a life-long resident of this region, and comes of early pioneer stock. His forebears arrived here early in the eighteenth century to carve out their homes in the wilderness. He knows the habits and the haunts of wild game, and it is his delight to succeed in their capture where others have failed.

I am not familiar with the exact procedure practised by Gust in the capture of foxes. Were I, very likely I would forsake my present occupation and become a trapper. From what I have heard, however, he proceeds something like this:

When Mr. Fox is hot upon the trail of poor defenseless Brer Rabbit and encounters Gust, the latter makes a few mysterious but magic passes with his hands, speaks a few words in the French dialect, and presto! Sir Reynard is completely under his spell. Straightway he leaves the trail of poor bunny to follow Gust, the magician, into the village! His harvest of fox furs disposed of this winter must be near to the [illegible], which record speaks for itself.

Gust has had the misfortune to lose several foxes by reason of their escape from his traps. In one instance, during the heat of action, an "animal" of the two-legged variety, removed a fox from one of his sets. Gust was, and still is, considerably "riled up" over this depredation. He has trace of the fox; if not recompensed one need not be surprised, later, to find a hairless hide among his collection removed from the carcass of a two-legged "animal."

Of other furs Gust has secured his full quota; but his reputation in the art of trapping has built up and will stand on his phenomenal success in the capture of sly Sir Reynard the fox.

The local chapter D. A. R. have arrangements well along in the making for the placing of a suitable monument over the grave of Ludwig Snyder, a revolutionary war soldier, who is buried in the cemetery at New Washington, this county. At present there is a marker over the grave which bears this inscription "Ludwig Snyder, Continental Army U. S. A."

Snyder has quite a history and was evidently a true "soldier of fortune." He was born in Holland, but came to this country in time to participate in the revolutionary war on the side of the Coonies, and returning to Europe for a time following the war. Victor Hugo in his "Les Miserables" makes the following reference to Snyder in the last part of the novel in describing the funeral of Gen Lafayette in 1832: "In the crowd which surrounded and cheered Lafayette himself was noticed a German named Ludwig Snyder, who died a centenarian afterwards, who had also been in the war of 1776 and who had fought at Trenton with Washington and at Brandywine under Lafayette."

Ludwig Snyder again returned to America and died in the New Washington country and was buried in the little cemetery there. Several of his descendants are yet living in that section.

Scent in Gems.

The perfume of precious stones was discussed in a lecture in Geneva recently, says the New York World, by the French jewel expert De Hensehier. Some stones, such as the emerald, he said, give a subtle, pleasant scent when reduced to powder, while others, among them diamonds, have a disagreeable odor.

Kellogg's Bran did more in two weeks than medicine taken in 20 years

Out of regard for your own health, read this letter:

Gentlemen:
Your "Krumbled Bran," used by me as a cereal, has done more for me in two weeks than the hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine I have taken in last twenty years for constipation. It is wonderful, and it is so simple. Yours truly,
Arlington H. Carman,
Patchogue, N. Y.

Mr. Carman's experience has been duplicated in thousands of homes. Why does Kellogg's Bran succeed when drugs and pills fail? The answer is simple. Drugs have an unnatural effect upon the bowels. They irritate the intestines. The more they are used, the more one has to use. Finally, they have no effect at all.

Kellogg's Bran STIMULATES the intestines. It cleans, sweeps and purifies them. It acts exactly as nature acts. And it is never necessary to increase the amount eaten. If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to bring permanent relief to the most chronic cases of constipation, or your grocer returns your money. For Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be so effective. That is why doctors recommend Kellogg's.

The wonderful, nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran is exclusive. It is delicious—totally unlike ordinary brans. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream and in the recipes on every package. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

The influence of the straight line style appears in all the good models for spring---a pleasing change to all well dressed men, both for comfort and appearance.

In the new styles, the cut is the important things, as always. The cut of your suit decides whether or not it is correct.

PHILLIPS AND PROHIBITION

"Obedience to the law is not an academic matter," says Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania. "It is personal. And so long as I am Governor, I will appoint no man to public office who has not given me his personal pledge to obey all laws, including those enacted to make effective the Eighteenth Amendment to the federal constitution."

"Obeying all laws" is a pretty difficult matter, in a land where legislation runs to quantity production. But what Governor Pinchot really insists on is personal observance on the part of public officials of laws which he regards as vital. For reasons valid in his state and in many other states, he puts strong emphasis on the prohibition laws.

"I found that all over the state," he explains, "officials, sworn to obey the law, were breaking it openly and otherwise. Therefore I decided to ask this personal pledge." He regards it as intolerable that the public representatives of the state should set an example in law-breaking, especially in a matter so vitally affecting the morals, health and efficiency of the community. It is hard enough at best to check the bootlegging. It is infinitely harder when public servants patronize the bootleggers.

The Progress believes that Mr. Pinchot, in order to carry out his campaign pledges, is warranted to exacting such a pledge from all in his official family who are charged with the enforcement of the prohibition laws because the success or failure of his administration rests not on himself but on his governmental organization.

But, the policy of the Game Commission was, and is, in no way related to the problem of prohibition enforcement. It works on a separate fund and its able head, who has had charge for more than twenty years and who has made this state a "sportsman's paradise", has never drawn a cent of pay and probably never turned in an expense account. He has been heading the Game Commission all these years with no thought of remuneration except that he hand down to the coming generation the advantages and happiness enjoyed by our fathers. Should he be re-named, by no stretch of the imagination should he be concerned with prohibition enforcement except insofar as all good citizens are concerned.

A member of Gifford Pinchot's cabinet would be expected to be in complete harmony with Mr. Pinchot's views and would sacrifice no principle in publicly subscribing to them and pledging his support. For his services and that support to the chief who appointed him he would receive his pay.

But, John M. Phillips, as head of the Game Commission, knew no law but the game code and he administered it without fear or favor and without criticism. He swore allegiance to no power but his God, his country and the great call of Nature and he is such a lover of wild life that, although an expert marksman, his rifle for more than a quarter of a century has been pointed at nothing but a pasteboard target.

One can appreciate the position of John M. Phillips who, after having given unstintingly of his time for over twenty years, now refuses to accept a re-appointment except on terms which he considers humiliating.

The success of prohibition enforcement depends on making friends for the cause. How the Governor figures that such a dumping on the scrap heap of an able sacrificing official is going to make prohibition more popular is beyond our ken.

GOOD TIMES

By FLORENCE DAVIES

It doesn't matter very much whether a girl in her teens has a good time or whether she doesn't, is the revolutionary statement made by Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale in a recent address about the young people of today.

Such a statement challenges the attention of the strictest type of parent. For no mother, no matter how strict and old-fashioned she be in her ideas about the conduct of her daughter, would willingly deprive her children of good times.

It is true that such parents often have their own rather restricted ideas of what constitutes a good time, as that phrase is interpreted by the young of today.

But none of them would come right out and admit that good times didn't matter.

Perhaps, however, Mrs. Hale was merely trying to shock her hearers into attention, for she goes on to explain her statement.

"Good times for your daughter do not matter," she says. "It is all important that she should be happy, but happiness and a good time have little relation to each other."

So you see it's mostly a matter of words, after all. Though there is something worth thinking about in Mrs. Hale's distinction between the two things. "Happiness is a spiritual thing," she says. "It is the result of enriching the mind. A good time is an artificial thing. It is excitement and depends upon the gratification of the senses."

One thing is certain, and that is that the type of happiness which is the result of an interested and enriched mind is more lasting than what Mrs. Hale calls a good time.

One of the most pitiful sights in the world is the middle-aged or elderly man or woman with plenty of money and plenty of leisure, but with no resources for enjoyment.

They are doubtless the people who in their youth had little inward happiness, but many good times. Old age is wearied with the coming and going that used to spell good times, and with minds unfurnished with those inward resources for the enjoyment of the world around them, time hangs heavy on their hands. If two people can't be really happy once in a while just staying at home together, there's something wrong with the people or with the home, especially when those two people are mother and daughter.

Utah's Bird Sanctuary.

The most remarkable bird colony in the world is on Hat Island, in the Great Salt lake, Utah. The island is about twelve acres in extent, and on a rocky pinnacle 100 feet above the brine, with not a drop of fresh water to be found and apparently nothing to attract the birds except the sense of security which the island offers.

Wat. H Thompson was up from the county seat Saturday for a visit with his brother H. B. Thompson and family. He is the same "Wamby" as of old, despite the many business vicissitudes during his business life in this town.

Entrance was made by removing a window to the Park House poolroom Friday night. A small amount of money and candy and soft drinks were taken by the looters, but no other damage done.

Little Cora Ardary, a daughter of George Ardary, Bloomington avenue who has been out of the hospital only a short time, had a serious accident last Friday afternoon while sled riding. The sled got away from her; she was thrown off, her head striking a pole at the roadside. She suffered some severe cuts and other minor injuries

Mrs. John Murray was brought home from Philipsburg hospital last Friday afternoon, and is reported greatly improved in health from the time she entered that institution.

Miss Alice Wall, one of Curwensville's most vivacious high school young ladies, entertained a number of girl friends at the home of her parents on west George street the other evening. At a late hour a most delicious luncheon was served to the guests.

Mr. Russell and wife have returned to Curwensville after several months in Miami, Florida, Georgia with a daughter, Mrs.

Mr. Paul Rankin and little son, of Punxsutawney, spent the week end as guests of Mrs. Dean Rankin, at the R. G. Bilger home.

J. W. Boyd Gives Clever Checker Exhibition

the black checkers. But even with this handicap, and the running talk by the bystanders he succeeded in winning six of the games, drawing two with Samuel Mitchell and J. T. McClintock, and losing very close games with Edward Hile and James Mitchell, Sr.

There was a collection of checker boards, no two alike in size or color or checkers, which made it difficult for the exhibiting player, Mr. Boyd, but this did not disturb him and he received the hearty approbation of the crowd on his systematic, steady play. As fast as he finished with a player, there was another man to take his place and Mr. Boyd played many additional games, lasting two and a half hours in all. This being the first attempt upon the part of the exhibitor he deserves much praise for his good record. He was quite satisfied with the result, having defeated two of the younger men whom he knew were checker players of experience. Following the exhibition he explained the working out of a number of intricate checker problems recently published by the "Checkerist" a monthly magazine which is on file in the Y. M. C. A. reading room. The committee promised Mr. Boyd an experienced referee to direct the exhibition when he will repeat the demonstration at the close of the checker tournament.

Chairman William Bigler, of the Social and Games Committee, announced the drawings of the senior elimination checker tournament as follows, the following games to be played this week: Roy I. Fulton vs. Gordon Herrington; William E. Muntz vs. Samuel Mitchell; James Mitchell Jr., vs. J. T. McClintock; L. N. Rougeaux vs. L. J. Shankle; Clair Fetzer vs. Raymond Edwards; James Mitchell, Sr., vs. H. J. Hoover; Edward Hile vs. S. L. Warner; H. W. Kinkead vs. G. B. Fehl. Mr. Warner, chairman of the Boys' Work Committee, and always ready for help in anything, substituted for J. E. Wilkinson, who was called out of town for two weeks. The best out of three games will decide the winner. As this is an elimination tournament, the champion will be required to defeat four men.

Matches already scheduled for the tournament are: Shankle vs. Rougeaux, Wednesday night at 7 o'clock; Thursday night 7:30, James Mitchell, Sr., vs. H. J. Hoover, and Edwards vs. Fetzer. These contests will take place in the Y. M. C. A. lobby.

Plans for the inter-boro contest between Olanta and Clearfield are progressing and expect to be played between two five man teams next Monday night. Paul Mays is rounding up the checkerists of Olanta, while J. W Boyd will pick the team to represent Clearfield. The match will be played at the Clearfield Y. M. C. A.

"I am near 60 years, but I feel as young as I did at 30. I take a cupful of BulgarianTea once or twice a week It keeps me healthy and strong and makes me feel young again," said H. H. Von Schlick, manufacturer of Bulgarian Herb Tea.

To break up a bad cold you must take a cupful at bedtime. Bad colds often turn into Influenza or Pneumonia and thousands die every year.

Sick people should be careful not to use harsh, drastic or habit-forming drugs.

My Bugarian Tea is compounded of the freshest and purest herbs and is positively harmless.

Just remember I have made this tea for sick people for over twenty-five years and today millions are using it. Ask your druggist for by genuine Bulgarian Tea with my name on it in the red and yellow box.

THIS NEW KID LOOKS LIKE TROUBLE!

School Laws in Switzerland.

In Switzerland if a child does not attend school on a particular day the parent gets notice from the public authority that he is fined so many francs; the second day the fine is increased, and by the third day the amount becomes a serious one. In case of sickness the pupil is excused, but if there is any suspicion of shamming a doctor is sent to the house.

Cheap Enough!

The flash of lightning that rips the sky from horizon to horizon looks beautiful—but, according to scientific calculations, is worth only about one dollar, in terms of modern central station service rates.

Queer Superstition.

In Madagascar, the natives have a curious superstition about the striped partridge; anyone finding a nest of this bird and not breaking the eggs, causes the death of his mother.

A Huge Topaz.

A topaz, 10 by 17 inches, weighing about 100 pounds, has been sent to the Field museum, of Chicago, by a gem hunter in Brazil.

Must Do "Bearing."

Our nerves are out of order when we "can't bear" this or "can't bear" that. We're in this world to do a good deal of bearing.

Big Increase in Number of Cows

Dairying Around New York and Other Cities Makes Good Showing.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

That farmers are constantly on the alert to take advantage of new opportunities as they arise is typically illustrated by the development of dairying around New York city, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Growth of the urban population and improved methods of handling and shipping milk have steadily widened the field of distribution. This is shown by the fact that from 1880 to 1920 the number of cows on farms in counties nearest the city increased 50 per cent, while the number on farms from 200 to 225 miles away more than doubled.

Increase in Fluid Milk.

Fluid milk sold from the farms nearest the city doubled in quantity from 1880 to 1920, and quadrupled in the case of the farms farthest away. Counties nearest the city reached their maximum dairy production by 1900. Those situated more than 150 miles away made gain of practically one-third between 1900 and 1920. Similar extensions in dairying areas have been made, through a lesser degree, around other large cities.

Another example of wholesale readjustment in farming policies due to a changed condition is furnished by the country along the Gulf and Atlantic coasts, where climatic conditions make the fight against the boll weevil exceptionally hard. Cotton acreage in parts of this region has been cut 50 per cent. Farmers are turning to the production of farm maintenance crops—velvet beans, peanuts, other forage crops, and pasture for the extension of hog raising, beef production and dairying. In some localities sugar cane for sirup, sweet potatoes, watermelons and other truck crops, are receiving increased attention.

Farming Is Uncertain.

Readjustments now taking place in agriculture, say officials of the department, draw attention to a fact sometimes forgotten, namely, that changes are always going on in the basic conditions of farming due to the growth and distribution of population, the rise or fall of wages and prices, the heightened or lessened cost of transportation, crop pests and diseases, and other influences. Wide-awake farmers are quick to note these changes and modify their production policies accordingly. Farming today is more uncertain than it has been for many years. It is undergoing more necessary readjustments. Farmers who study the situation, and alter their plans to suit the circumstances, will be the first to cut their losses on crops that for any reason have become unprofitable, and the first to get their farms back on a paying basis.

Missouri River Longest.

The Missouri river is not only the longest river in the United States, but it is the longest river in the world. Its actual length in miles is 4,194; the Amazon, the next longest, which traverses Brazil in South America, 3,944 miles. The Hoang-Ho in China and the Murray in Australia rank next with 3,000 miles each. The Nile, often thought of as the greatest of rivers, is in reality only 2,61[illegible] long.

Game Fund of State Much Desired

intention to resign if the board was placed under such condition. The Governor shelved the plan for the time being.

Disregards Own Probers.

Pennsylvania sportsmen were given the impression, in Governor Pinchot's re-election campaign, that he would make no change in the administration of game affairs. Before the governor assumed office he appointed a committee to investigate both the game and fish departments with the purpose in view of recommending needed changes. The game commission's work was "probed" by Frederick C. Walcott, director of the American Game Protective Association, and Ray B. Holland formerly of the Biological survey at Washington, both conservationists and game authorities of national standing. Both men gave the Keystone commission the highest praise. Said Mr. Walcott:

"I think that no one can successfully dispute the statement that Pennsylvania stands at the head of the eastern states in the protection and the propagation of her game resources. . . . All the experts who are familiar with the work of the eastern game commissions, so far as I have been able to get their opinions, rate Pennsylvania first, not only in the total amount of native game killed, but in the amount of native game killed per capita." And again: "The present commission is unquestionably made up of men of the highest character, with a singleness of purpose and devotion to the best interests of the state seldom found in a commission composed of volunteers."

Sportsmen Satisfied.

Mr. Holland's report is even stronger in support of Pennsylvania's present system of administering its game resources. In part he said:

"The sportsmen are satisfied as to their present plans and policies have made Pennsylvania one of the greatest game states in the Union, from a state that was practically shot out when they took hold of it. I attribute this to the fact that they have had high class men interested in the work continuously for 25 years, who are willing and able to give both their time and their money to the cause. When a new man was appointed, in place of considering it an honorary appointment, he took the example set by such men as Dr. Charles B. Penrose, John M. Phillips and William B. McCaleb and buckled down to work.

"These men pay their own railroad and hotel expenses. . . . I consider it a most remarkable record, showing that these men sacrifice their own personal and business interests for that of the sportsmen of the state.

Urges No Tampering.

"I conscientiously say I can offer no further suggestion for the betterment of the lot of the outdoor man in Pennsylvania. I consider that state foremost at the present time among the different states which rank at the top in game matters, and I dread to think of tampering with a machine which time has proved to be very nearly perfect."

Concerning the attitude of the sportsmen toward proposed changes in the system, Mr. Holland said there "seems to be a fear that the department will be combined and either now or later get into politics, which has 'shot things to pieces' in New York and elsewhere."

Noted in Mining World.

Mr. Philips' achievements as a conservationist have necessitated diverting considerable time and energy from his business interests. He is well known as an engineer and inventor, and has designed mining machinery now in use all over the world wherever coal is mined. In addition he is president of on of the largest companies manufacturing mine supplies in the United States.

Many years before this he conceived and carried out the idea of enlisting the school children in the conservation service by distributing bird boxes and food-bearing trees for planting in the Allegheny schools, a movement which has spread practically all over the country.

Mr. Phillips was perhaps the first to conceive the idea of game refuges combined with public shooting ground. In 1901 he explored a piece of territory between the Bull and Elk river of British Columbia and, with his friend, Dr. William T. Hornaday, the noted naturalist, succeeded in having about 500,000 acres of virgin territory, well stocked with its native wild life set aside as a refuge, in the center of a considerable area open to public hunting. This is believed to be the first public park set aside primarily as a game refuge on the North American continent.

This idea afterwards was adopted by Pennsylvania's game commission and is known as the Pennsylvania game refuge system. The sportsmen of the United States now are trying to apply this system on a national scale, under federal law, to refuges and public shooting grounds for wild ducks and other migratory birds.

Hunting With Camera.

Mr. Phillips was one of the first hunter-naturalists to carry the camera into the hunting fields and in 1922 was awarded, by the American Museum of Natural History, first prize in a world-wide exhibit of photgraphs of wild animals in their natural habits for a picture of a male mountain goat taken on a peak in the Canadian Rockies at the risk of his life.

Mr. Phillips is president of the Lewis and Clark club of big game hunters, vice president of the International Association of Conservation Commissioners and is affiliated with many other conservation organizations. He was awarded in 1920 the gold medal of the Permanent Wild Life Protection fund for "distinguished services to wild life" and with the late President Roosevelt was one of the three first men made honorary members of the Campfire Club of America in recognition of their service for conservation.

Observing Other Planets.

On the moon, as well as on Mars there are many varied shades and tints of color to be seen; greens and blues browns yellows and reddish browns as well as black white and grays. A study of the color effects produced by our own vegetation and vast seas when viewed from great elevations may aid in an interpretation of the splotches of color that are easily observable on Mars and the moon.

The medical correspondent of a prominent London paper attributes much of the illness of the world to the custom of hearty eating on Sunday, the day on which most of us take the least exercise. He advocates Sunday as a day of abstinence and says we would all be better for it.

Jews Are a Nation.

Loosely, the term "Jews" means the Semitic nation that was earlier called Hebrews, Israelites, or the children of Israel; strictly, the term is applied to the people descended from the tribes of Judah and Benjamin. The Jews still remain a distinct people and retain their nationality.

Make your own cough syrup in two minutes at home if you want the best. It costs but a trifle.

Simple coughs, or stubborn coughs, it doesn't matter which, this home made mixture will stop them quicker than any expensive cough syrup you can buy ready made.

Get from Stewart Drug Co., or any druggist one ounce of Parmint (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar, as directed, and enough water to make one half pint—that's all there is to it, and children like it.

Like a soothing, healing poultice one costly substance in this home made cough mixture spreads itself completely over the membrane of the throat. This causes the most stubborn hang-on cough to cease almost instantly. No ordinary slow-acting cough syrup contains this expensive ingredient.

JACOB ESELMAN DIES AT CRESSON

Jacob Eselman, Sr., died at the home of his son, Jacob Eselman, Jr., of the Mountain House grounds, Cresson, on Saturday morning at 2:40. He had been confined to his bed for seven months. He was born at Homebrook, Chester county, Jan. 13, 1845, being aged 77 years, 1 month and 16 days. When a young man he removed to Houtzdale where he was engaged in the cattle business. He was married on May 26, 1878, to Miss Sara Jane Beer at Houtzdale by the Rev. Flegal of the Presbyterian Church to which union one son, Jacob W. Eselman, was born. They also raised six other children. About twenty years ago they moved to Coalport, where he was in business about 20 years, retiring about seven years ago and coming to Cresson, where they have since made their home.

He is survived by his wife, one son and one grandson, D. J. Clifton Eselman, of Homer City. He was buried in Braeburn cemetery yesterday.

A Coincidence.

Upon looking for his shoes outside his bedroom door in a hotel, a guest discovered one black and one tan shoe. He called the porter's attention to the error. The porter scratched his head in bewilderment. "Well! That's the second time that mistake happened this morning!"

Weasel's Coat Quickly Whitens.

Totemism.

Totemism was, and still is, a system of tribal division among many primitive races of men, its origin dating back to the people of prehistoric times. Natural objects, usually an animal, bird, fish, or reptile, were taken as a totem, both for clans and individuals. The representation of individual totems in many regions the earth was often painted upon bodies, or painted or otherwise worked upon such possessions as blanket skins of animals, utensils, and shields.

MRS. BUSH TELLS OTHER WOMEN

How Pains in Side and Dragging Down Feelings Were Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Massena, N.Y.—"I had terrible pains in both my sides and a dragging-down feeling that affected me so that I could hardly walk, and I got run-down. A friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advised me to try it and I have taken it with the best results. I do my housework and also some outdoor work on the farm. The Vegetable Compound has given me back my health and I can not praise it enough. I am perfectly willing that you should use these facts in my letter will help other women who still suffer."—Mrs. DELBERT BUSH, R. F. D. 1, Massena, N.Y.

The spirit of helpfulness shown in the letters we are constantly publishing is worthy of notice.

These women know by experience what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will do. Your troubles are the same as theirs. Isn't it reasonable to expect the same results?

If you have pains and a dragging-down feeling and are nervous and irritable, profit by Mrs. Bush's experience and give the Compound a trial.
